

Project Profile :

The Workforce Development Department of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Labor and Industry chose Haworth Premise systems for the renovation of their 12th floor offices. The layout incorporates common workstation sizes and components for varying levels of workers. Additionally, the stackable capabilities of the Premise systems allow for a color banding accent and the use of glass stack-on units to define supervisor workstations. All the workstations use Haworth adjustable keyboards and OneTouch overhead storage. Conference rooms use light stackable seating while the training rooms use Haworth X99 seminar seating.
